

The Spartanburg Writing Project presents...

Pamper Your Inner Poet: “Finding Something Permanent”

A one-day writing retreat for teachers and students
focusing on writing about place.

Saturday, April 18, 2009
9:00am until 12:00noon
Humanities and Performing Arts Center
USC Upstate

Please join us for our fourth annual SWP writing retreat for teachers and mini-camp for students. We invite all educators in Spartanburg and Union Counties, and students in grades 3-12 to enjoy a morning of creative writing workshops along with the chance to share your passion and excitement for writing with others.

The retreat will include:

- A free t-shirt
- Refreshments
- Two 45 minute writing workshops and share sessions
- The opportunity to create some wonderful keepsakes

Agenda

9:00-9:15am	Registration
9:15-11:00am	Break-out Sessions <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Students and Teachers will divide into age-appropriate workshops
11:00-12:00	Celebration of Writing: Sharing and Performances

The retreat is free for teachers, and there is a $10 fee for students.

Pamper Your Inner Poet “Finding Something Permanent”

Saturday, April 18, 2009
9:00am until 12:00noon
Humanities and Performing Arts Center
USC Upstate

Registration Deadline: April 10, 2009

For Teachers

Name: _____

School: _____

District: _____ Phone: _____

Email: _____

T-shirt Size: Adult S M L XL

Have you attended SWP programs before? _____

If so, please list:

For Students: Open to Students in Grades 3-12

Name: _____ Parent Contact: _____

Phone: _____ Email: _____

School: _____ District _____

Grade: _____

Home Address: _____

T-Shirt Size: Youth S M L XL

Adult S M L XL

Please include $10 registration fee for students with the form.

Mail, Fax or Email Registration to:

Phone: 864.503.5356

Fax: 864.503.5825

Tasha Thomas, SWP Director

USC Upstate

800 University Way,
Spartanburg, SC 29303

tthomas@uscupstate.edu

SWP is an affiliate of the National Writing Project