UPSTATE University of South Carolina
Welcome Parents, Families, and Supporters!

We know the start of college is an exciting time not only for students, but also for their parents, family, and supporters. Whether it’s your first or fifth family member to take this step, each time is different, and families have many hopes, concerns, and questions about their student embarking on a career at USC Upstate.

We have created a program that will acquaint you with various aspects of Upstate’s academic, residential, and student life. Emphasis will be on the transitions and adjustments new college students and their supporters typically experience. You will have an opportunity to hear from members of our faculty, administrative staff, and current students. Various departments from across campus will be available for you to ask questions and learn more about their services.

It is our goal to help your student reach greater heights at USC Upstate!

Students, Parents & USC Upstate

USC Upstate parents and students all share a common goal: a rewarding and positive educational experience for each Upstate student. We each approach the goals from different perspectives.

The Parents Orientation and this guidebook are designed to support the relationship between you, your student and the campus by providing you with essential information. We realize you have been the most important resource for your student. The University has additional resources to support students in their lives at Upstate.

You will hear a lot about “transitions” during Orientation and in this guidebook. As parents transition to a new phase of relationship with their children, those children will transition to more self-sufficient, independent lives.

Because we see students as adults, most communication concerning bills, grades and academic performance will be directly with them. We encourage you to communicate regularly with your student and to recognize there are many situations in which the University cannot release information to parents.

Academic Records and FERPA

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), also known as the Buckley Amendment, is federal legislation that deals with the rights of students as they impact their educational record. This includes both the students’ right to inspect and amend records as well as the right to exercise some control over the disclosure of their information. An annual notification to students concerning their rights under FERPA is published in the online catalog.

Verification of Enrollment

Students needing proof of enrollment for medical or other purposes may obtain this information online through the Self Service Carolina (SSC) system or by visiting the Records Office with a photo ID.

Release of Information

A student must provide a signed and dated written consent form before a school may disclose records to a third party. Certain exceptions apply, including the parents of a dependent student. Parents must provide documentation of dependency as defined by the Internal Revenue Code as well as a notarized affidavit.

Here are a few helpful places you’ll want to keep in mind. All USC Upstate telephone numbers use the 864 area code.

20 Tips For Parents

1. If possible, plan a campus visit, e.g., a sporting event, a weekend, or a day at Upstate with your student. Take your student and his or her friends to lunch, dinner or for an outing.

2. Phone, email, text or connect on social media with your student, especially in the beginning of the year.

3. During the semester, send a beloved food item. If your student comes home on the weekends, send the leftovers back to campus.

4. Purchase a gift certificate from a grocery store or your student’s favorite store. Your student can then spend the certificate on food items, etc., and you know the money will go for what it was intended.

5. For holidays, send something appropriate, like plastic pumpkins filled with Halloween candy, holiday baskets, etc.

6. Discuss financial management with your son or daughter before he or she begins at USC Upstate. It is strongly recommended students either open a local bank account or use a bank near home. You may also consider educating your student on the advantages and disadvantages of credit cards as they will have plenty of opportunities to apply.

7. Encourage your student to check their account balances regularly and be aware of any pending withdrawals.

8. Have your student create a monthly budget instead of a semester budget for the first year.

9. If you have not begun giving your student added responsibilities at home during his or her high school senior year (budgeting money, washing and ironing, extending curfews, managing time, etc.), do it now.

10. Remember, parental guidance does not mean trying to control your student’s decisions or actions from home.

11. Encourage your student to foster a good rapport with his or her academic adviser and to develop a network of peers, administrators, faculty and staff to count on for advice and guidance.

12. Be aware of any stipulations established by your health insurance provider. Most require the student to be full-time in order to receive benefits. Also, make sure your carrier will cover your student out-of-state.

13. Know how to find contact info of local businesses and agencies that are most important to you.

14. Make sure your student keeps the Registrar’s Office informed of address changes for both local addresses and mailing addresses.

15. If your student begins to get into academic trouble, refer him/her to his adviser early on. Don’t wait until he/she is on probation.

16. Students who get involved on campus are prone to greater academic success than students who leave campus after class.

17. Don’t be upset if you don’t hear from your son or daughter the first week of college. Instead, be pleased he or she is fitting in, having a good time and keeping busy.

18. Don’t attempt to rush in and “save the day” for your son or daughter. Now is the time to trust that your years of influence will make a difference.

19. Support without always agreeing. Validate your student’s feelings and perceptions, but don’t assume it’s the whole story.

20. Most of all, keep a sense of humor — no matter what you see or hear.

As a parent, you will want to consider how you and your student will handle the communication of grades, payment of tuition/fees, academic standing, etc. The University is strictly limited as to the information it can discuss with anyone but the student.

Avoiding the contentious nature and additional paperwork of seeking this information without the student’s consent is in the best interest of you and your student. If you have additional questions, please contact the Registrar’s Office at 864-503-5220.
ISSUE: Absenteeism
WHO TO CONTACT: Dean of Students
(family crisis / medical absences)
Student Success Center  (all other absences)
SUGGESTION: The class attendance policy is determined individually by each professor. Faculty may permit students to make up work only for serious illness, death in the family, representing the University off campus, etc. Please contact the appropriate office for further assistance if your student is accumulating absences.

ISSUE: Academic Difficulties
WHO TO CONTACT: Professor or Student Success Center
SUGGESTION: Students who are struggling academically should first and foremost meet with their professor. They should also be referred to the Student Success Center to get academic counseling and to receive any needed additional academic support necessary (tutoring, SI, etc.).

ISSUE: Alcohol/Drug Abuse
WHO TO CONTACT: Counseling Services
SUGGESTION: Try to determine the extent of abuse; encourage student to seek professional help. The problem may be too severe for parents or students to deal with alone. Contact Health Education for consultation and referral.

ISSUE: Roommate Conflicts
WHO TO CONTACT: Residential Life or Counseling Services
SUGGESTION: Encourage student to take time to work through conflicts; discuss the value of learning to get along with someone who is different; help student to be appropriately assertive without being domineering. Make them aware of Counseling Services as a resource. On-campus students complete Roommate Agreement Workbooks with their roommate/suitemates at the beginning of the semester; encourage your student to advocate for themselves during this process.

ISSUE: Illness
WHO TO CONTACT: Health Services
SUGGESTION: Encourage the student to go to Health Services for treatment. If needed, Health Services will make the appropriate referral or work with the primary care physician for treatment.

ISSUE: Homesickness/Loneliness
WHO TO CONTACT: Counseling Services, Residential Life or Student Involvement
SUGGESTION: Before school starts, determine when visits home will be scheduled and when you might be able to visit the campus; let your student know that homesickness is a common problem with freshmen and Counseling Services can offer support. Use campus notifications to help student learn about things to do on campus and in the community. Urge student to contact the Office of Student Life about how to get involved at USC Upstate.

ISSUE: Changing Major
WHO TO CONTACT: Academic Adviser,
Career Management, or Counseling Services
SUGGESTION: Research shows most college students will change their major several times during their college experience. This is normal and does not reflect indecisiveness, but more likely a clarification of students’ interests, values and skills as they relate to career choice. Encourage your student to seek career counseling in order that they might clarify their career path.

ISSUE: Safety
WHO TO CONTACT: University Police or Resident Adviser/Residential Life
SUGGESTION: USC Upstate is a relatively safe place, but students need to be reminded that they need to take the same precautions here that they would in any metropolitan area. Emergency call boxes are located throughout campus. Tips on personal safety and the security of property will be provided by the University Police.

ISSUE: Parking Tickets
WHO TO CONTACT: University Police
SUGGESTION: Make sure student has a clear understanding of where on campus students (depending on sticker color) can park. Unpaid parking tickets end up on a student’s account – you may want to make sure your student knows he/she is responsible for those charges.

ISSUE: Withdrawal from a class
WHO TO CONTACT: Professor, Academic Adviser,
Student Success Center, Financial Aid
SUGGESTION: Student should always discuss matter with professor first. Additional support and advice can be provided through the Student Success Center. Students should also check with their academic adviser to determine impact of decision on degree progress. Students should be aware of deadlines set forth in the academic calendar every semester. Students receiving scholarships or financial aid should check with the Financial Aid Office to determine any impact of withdrawing from a class.

Issue: Determining a Career Goal
WHO TO CONTACT: Career Management or Counseling Services
SUGGESTION: Career exploration is a process which takes place over the duration of the college experience. Personality inventories utilized in career counseling, exploration using Focus 2, internships and resume development are just some of the components students can use to continually refine their career goals.
